

The Sustainable Idaho Initiative presents

The GreenHows Series

A series of brown-bag lunch conversations about how to implement sustainability at the UI.
The first discussion will be on

Greening the Campus through Greening the Curriculum: Lessons Learned

by Dr. Paul Rowland
Dean of the College of Education

Friday, October 13th
noon – 1:30 p.m
Education 419

Everyone is welcome
Please join us!
Coffee, tea and cookies will be available

Dean Rowland suggests that, if you have time, you can read an article that he co-wrote, entitled “The Ponderosa Project: Infusing Sustainability in the Curriculum,” which is available by emailing Rosemary Streatfeild at streatf@uidaho.edu, and is published in Sustainability on Campus: Stories and Strategies for Change, edited by Peggy Bartlett and Geoffrey Chase (Island Press).